

Graphics for Design - Spring

Assignment 3

Upload Portfolio to Web

This assignment is to put your work on a leading web presentation site, either Coroflot or Behance (or both). When thinking about how to upload this work, you want to plan the order your work will be seen, and what you want to showcase.

It's good to have some process, especially if you are in Industrial Design. The web is a different way of looking at work than print is. Print usually starts with a "teaser" image of the piece, then builds through process to the final beauty shots.

The web starts with a beauty shot, shows some process, then variations, then back to the beauty shots.

If you are preparing a lot of work for both print and web, I usually work with the large, print images first, then place all them in a folder and create an action to adjust all of them over to the lower-rez images used on the web.

Note that color and black—white balances may need to change from print to the web.

The Final package for this assignment includes:

- Upload link
- All the work you will be putting into your print portfolio must be uploaded online.
